Treatment of Confederate Prisonsrs. FEMALE COLLEGE, HUNTSVILLE, Ala., June 18, 1867. To the Edi:or of the New York Times :

My attention has been called to an article in your paper of 31st ult., in which, replying to some remarks of the Richmond Enquirer in regard to the treatment of prisoners, it is

"Nobody on either side ever pretended for a moment that rebel prisoners ever died in our hands or even seriously suffered for lack of food or clothing or shelter. No such charge has ever been made."

Will you then permit such charges to be made through your columns? I was captured No. 114, Prince street, east of the Post Office in October, 1863, and spent six months in Camp Morton. In March, 1864, I was removed to Fort Delaware, where I remained until June 1865. The winter of 1863-'4 is well known to have been intensely severe.

Many rebel prisoners, to my knowledge, spent that winter without a blanker, and in the scant and ragged summer clothing worn when captured. The barracks were the old cattle sheds used when the prison was a fair ground, and open enough for the winter winds to though he were to purchase in person.

I OFFER: sweep through freely. Scores of the men in the dead of winter slept in these sheds, upon the bare ground, without covering, huddling together like hogs to keep from freezing.

several died, actually frozen to death, while a stiff soils or stiff sub-soils it will answer quite as large number were so badly frost bitten as to well as Peruvian, and it costs but two thirds And rejoics in your own luxuriant hair. be lamed for life.

During the larger portion of the time the hospital arrangements were shamefully deficient, and by many of the surgeons and attendants the sick were not only grossly neglected but most inhumanly treated.

Men barely able to crawl through weakness from insufficient food and disease consequent upon exposure, were forced, in the severest winter weather, to stand at roll-call for two and often three or more hours in line, like soldiers on dress parade, and cursed like brutes or beaten over the heads with sabres or clubs, and sometimes shot at for moving a little to keep from freezing. In several instances prisoners were shot on the most frivolous pretexts. A quiet orderly man, an Englishman named Coats, belonging to my division, was murdered in cold blood by a private of the Invalid Corps named Baker, who was on guard.

Instead of being tried and unished, Baker, though a private, was sent next morning into camp to take charge as sergeant of our division, in which position he heaped upon the defenceless men every indignity that so inhuman a wretch could devise.

At the very time that such an outery was raised about the mortality among Northern soldiers in Southern prisons, the inmates of Camp Morton knew the mortality then in proportion to the number of men to be several per cent greater.

At Fort Delaware our barracks were more comfortable, but the rations were miserably insufficient, and prisoners who could not obtain money from friends with which to procure extra supplies from the sutlers, suffered the pangs of hunger night and day, and reduced to skeletons, and eaten up by scurvy from scanty and Flour and Sugar Buckets; Diamond State Parunwholesome food, fell ready victims to disease and died by hundreds.

At the close of the war, of about 7,000 men in one pen, fully one-half, if not three-fourths, were but walking skeletons, hundreds of them ruined for lifed with scurvy.

It was a daily occurrence for large numbers of the men to be beaten over the head with bludgeons, or kept for hours tied up by the thumbs in the most agonizing torture. A Dutch Lieutenant, Dietz, in charge of our pen, was for weeks in the habit of coming in with a large cowhide and lashing the men most unmercifully-in one instance cutting a gash in the face of an Alabamian named Pardue, in Northern markets. which your finger could have been laid.

It was no uncommon thing for the guards, upon the slightest pretext, to fire into the quarters in which were 300 or 400 men, and several prisoners were needlessly and recklessly

The libel was claimed to be the charge of feigning insanity. At the first hearing the judge decided that a charge of that character was not libellous, unless it was shown that the alleged feigning of insanity was on account of criminal action. It is now proposed by both parties to prove that it was on account of the Harper's Ferry affair, Mr. Smith's counsel taking ground that that would be such a libel as the court would take cognizance of, while the Tribune proposes to prove that Mr. Smith, by money and counsel, did help John Brown, and did feign insanity to escape the consequences thereof. GUANO.-REED'S AMMONIATED SU-PERPHOSPHATE OF LIME.-The best superphosphate yet offered to the farmer, possessing all the activity of Peruvian Guano, but being far more durable in its effects. It contains a large amount of animal matter in a highly concentrated form, which, combined with its soluble bone phosphate of lime, cannot fail to render it very valuable as a fertilizer.—

Notwithstanding we believe it to be the best super-phosphate in the market, yet, by a process peculiar in its manufacture, whereby the expenses are lessened, we are enabled to sell it very low, with a liberal discount to dealers.

MEDICAL. DEPARATOR CAPILLI.

Throw away your false frizzes, your switches your wig— Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig ;

For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say, how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certa nly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations in your druggist does not keep t, send us $1, and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, providing entire satisfaction
